

Engaging Modern Learning Solution for the Education Industry

Those working in the education industry are certainly aware of the importance of ongoing learning and development! But unfortunately, many companies in this space struggle with limited internal resources. This makes dedicating time and money to an internal training program a struggle.

BizLibrary's large off-the-shelf content library addresses this challenge by providing the relevant resources needed to upskill the employees of this industry, without the burden of costly in-person trainings.

Online Training as a Solution

Higher education employees can upskill and reskill their employees by utilizing online training and off-the-shelf content. With access to a vast library of soft skills and microlearning content, employees can easily participate in training, without having to take time away from their office to attend an in-person seminar or classroom style training.

BizLibrary works with nearly 40 producer partners and has an in-house production studio that creates a diverse selection of content in both topic areas and delivery styles. Employees can choose content that best fits their learning styles, to ensure maximum learning retention. Content within The BizLibrary Collection includes interactivity such as quizzes, web links, multiple choice, poll, and true false questions to promote active learning and increase engagement during the learning process.
