What You Can Do With BizSkills

› Personalized Skills Development

Easily customize and automate an upskilling program based on each employee's current skills and the skills they need for their next role.

Implement upskilling right away, with dynamic libraries of job roles, skills, and content all built out and mapped together for you.

Quickly see your employees' current skill sets, with a built-in ratings system that allows a learner and their manager to rate their proficiency on relevant skills.

Provide informal learning in specific areas, or formal learning plans and career pathing, all personalized to each employee's development needs and interests.

Each of your employees has their own individual growth journey. BizSkills gives them a tailored and proactive route to building the skills they need for their current role and to move forward in their career.

What You Can Do With BizLMS

› Group Training Initiatives

Provide standardized training and development programs to your employees, such as compliance, safety, onboarding, or new manager initiatives.

Ensure employees stay on top of specific certifications, with features that make the recertification process automatic and simple to track.

Use our complimentary Content Concierge service to get curated recommendations for training based on specific topic requests.

Easily access all features, reports, and content within BizLMS from anywhere with an internet connection.

For mandatory or collective training assignments across employee segments or your full workforce, BizLMS helps you get it done.
Better Together

When you need solutions for personalized upskilling and career development and broader, mandatory assignments, guess what… BizSkills and BizLMS are fully integrated with the look and feel of a single platform!

Combining BizSkills and BizLMS means you get simplified training administration by consolidating all things learning and development into one platform.

With BizLMS + BizSkills, you get:

The BizLibrary Collection | More than 9,000 courses available for assignments, elective learning, and mapped to employees' individual development needs.
