

Canadian Compliance Product Sheet

BizLibrary's Commitment

BizLibrary provides a variety of compliance content and frequently works with subject matter experts in the creation and review of this content. Our Canadian anti-harassment and workplace safety content has been reviewed and approved by lawyers specializing in Canadian employment law. Additionally, BizLibrary also offers non-province-specific content for proactive organizations seeking to educate their workforce on anti-harassment and safety best practices. All courses listed on this sheet are offered in English and in French Canadian.

Comprehensive Coverage for the Whole Organization

Implementing and understanding anti-harassment and workplace safety requirements can be a daunting task. With BizLibrary's compliance training solutions, you can easily meet regional requirements and support a safe and positive company culture. It is recommended that managers and employees receive anti-harassment and safety training on an annual basis. This can help build an affirmative defense case should your organization ever be involved in a lawsuit. Even more, providing annual training on anti-harassment and workplace safety can help grow a workplace culture that does not tolerate harassment and promotes the safety and inclusion of everyone. This provides residual benefits like lower employee turnover, increased engagement, and high productivity. BizLibrary's anti-harassment and workplace safety training solutions offer courses to educate both employees and managers on their role in preventing discrimination, harassment and accidents in the workplace.

Culture of Civility: Creating a Harassment-Free Workplace (Ontario)

Culture of Civility Courses are designed to help employees and supervisors understand how to recognize and respond to harassment, as well as how to behave appropriately and prevent harassment from occurring in the first place. There are two modules of Culture of Civility: one for employees, and one for supervisors. Both courses are designed with the provincial laws of Ontario in mind. Viewers of all courses will learn about the different types of harassment, how bystanders can respond, and the process for making or investigating harassment complaints. By learning about things like the reasonable person standard and protected characteristics, viewers will be better able to navigate workplace situations and keep themselves and their coworkers safe. After completing a Culture of Civility course, viewers will be familiar with workplace issues like sexual harassment, abusive conduct, workplace violence, and harassment based on sex and gender identity as well as how to address them.
