

THE VALUE OF A LMS

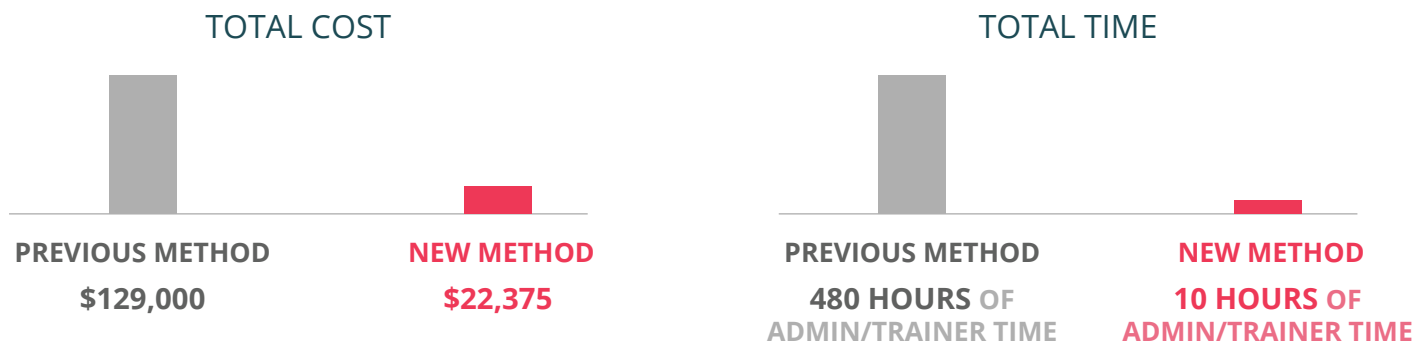

See how one client saved time and money by utilizing BizLibrary's full learning management system for their training.

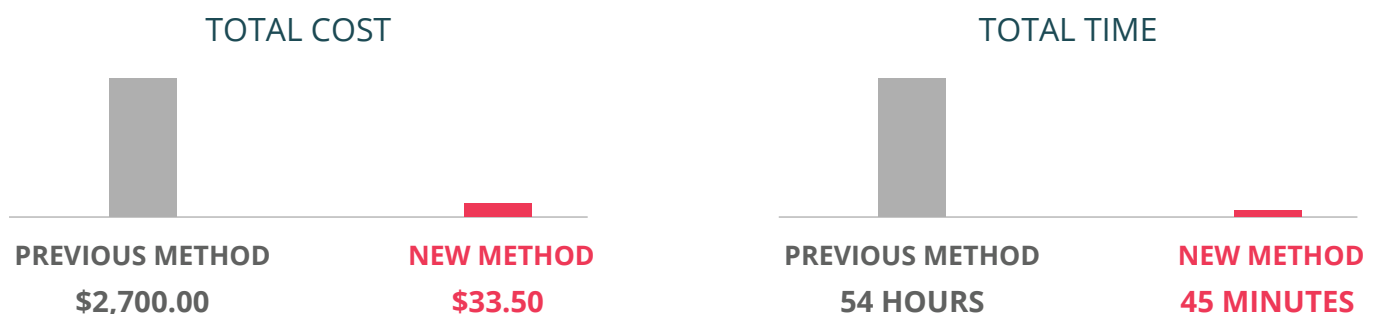

Conductix-Wampfler is the world leader in the design and manufacturing of efficient energy and data transmission systems for all types of mobile equipment and machinery. Their goal is to work closely with customers to improve their productivity and to build long-term partnerships that lead to highly energy efficient and sustainable operations. All equipment is rigorously designed and manufactured with respect to the environment, high product quality, and to their customers' applications and operating conditions.

CLASSROOM ADMINISTRATION:

By moving away from 100% classroom safety compliance training to offering 10 out of 12 monthly training sessions online, it has saved a total of $106,625 annually and decreased time to develop, schedule, create, and administer training by 97%.

CERTIFICATIONS:

A significant ROI has been calculated from their Onboarding Certification. The Learning Management Coordinator can now assign one certification instead of 27 individual courses for each new employee, savings $2,666.50 and 53 hours of time per year.
